Diffuse Porcelain Lighting

Diffuse chandeliers are key to high profile interiors.

The skill and flexibility of the Diffuse production facilities enable architects and interior designers to commission fine porcelain chandeliers which combine visual impact with feature lighting to create an ambience in key projects.

Diffuse create lighting with classic lines with a modern slant in their Studio under Design Director Lucy Boatswain and in their Porcelain Factory under Director of Production Jason Boatswain. This Bedfordshire company, founded in 1998, is now providing dramatic lighting features in high profile projects to be seen in the UK and Eire, Europe, Japan, Czech Republic, Poland and USA.

Chandeliers are made in many shapes and sizes from suspended tiles of paper-thin translucent matt porcelain which gives a soft warm light when illuminated.

A selection of outstanding recent contracts in which Diffuse Bespoke interior lighting makes bold statements to complement the setting include the following: (none of which has yet been featured) order of images relates to number order below.

1. Marienbad Spa and Wellness Resort, Czech Republic.
2. Nightclub, north of England.
3. Ballroom of Portopia Hotel, Kobe, Japan
4. Arthur Morrice opticians, London
5. Youngs Brewery, St. George's Wharf, London
6. Stunning 3 tier chandelier over dining table: commission for private house.
